

LightTrans' Talk at Imaging and Applied Optics 2019

Fast-Physical Optics Modeling of Two-Photon Microscopy with 3D-Structured Illumination

OSA's Imaging and Applied Optics Congress 2019

Date & time: 25 June 2019 | 16:30 - 16:45
Advances in Microscopy / Digital Holographic Microscopy
Sub-Conference: Applications of Structured Illumination for Imaging

Paper authors: Rui Shi^{1,2}, Site Zhang¹, Christian Hellmann³, and Frank Wyrowski²
¹ LightTrans International UG | Jena, Germany
² Applied Computational Optics Group, Friedrich Schiller University | Jena, Germany,
³ Wyrowski Photonics GmbH | Jena, Germany

Presenting author: Rui Shi

Abstract

We perform a fast-physical optics modeling of two-photon microscopy with 3D-structured illumination. We analyze the contrast, inhomogeneity and the temporal focusing of the 3D-structured illumination pattern, which should be accounted for in image processing.